

Year 2 - R.E. - Ideas about God in Christianity and Judaism

Worship

Christians and Jewish people often worship by praying. Many Christians and Jewish people worship together in special places. Christians often worship in a building called a Church. Jewish people often worship in a building called a Synagogue. Christians and Jewish people often have special prayers that they use at certain times, for example, the Lord's Prayer. Prayers can be an important part of worship but they can be done anywhere, they don't always have to happen in a Church or a synagogue.
