

Year 2 Seals – Enquiry based learning – Autumn 2020.

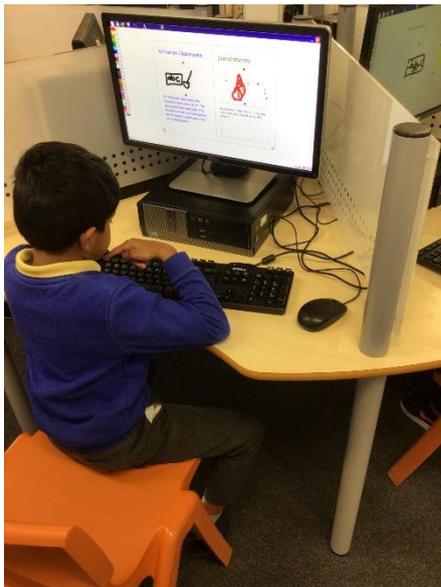

How have North East schools changed since the time of Queen Victoria?

Beginning of the process

We used books and the iPads to do our own research. We wrote down what we found out in our whiteboard books.

Presenting our research

We used the computer software 2-Simple to create our own books to present what we had found out.

Examples of end products

How have North East schools changed since the time of Queen Victoria?

By Adi

The school day

Modern schools and Victorian schools finish at different times. Boys do woodwork and drawing and girls do cooking and sewing. Modern schools finish at 3'o clock.

Victorian Classrooms

In Victorian classrooms the teachers were very strict. The walls were bare and plain. The teachers wrote on a blackboard and in modern classrooms they use a whiteboard.

Punishments

In Victorian days the children were hit by the cane if they were not listening. If you were yawning, you would get a punishment as well. When children didn't keep up with their writing, they would have to sit with the dunce's cap on. In modern schools, the children have to put their name on reminder if they do not listen or if they are being silly.

How have North East schools changed since the time of Queen Victoria?

By eshaal

the school day

In the victoran schools they have black thing.in the victoran schools the girls talk to girls and the boys talk to boys but the modern school are all together.

victorian classroom

in the victorian classroom they have blackbord but in the modern they dot have it.the teacher were strick.

punishments

In the victorian children were hit by the cane.if you was yawning you will get a punishments.it you need a toilet you will get a punishments.In the modern schools, the children will get on reminder.in the modern they dot have a punishments.

