

The children then edited their adverts and included images and music to make it more appealing to their audience.

After learning about deforestation last term, the children researched COP 26 and debated whether deforestation should be banned by 2030. The children then researched sustainability and chose a business to research their sustainable

EBL – Year 5 Hippos
Should deforestation be banned by 2030?

The children used green screen to record and edit their advert for their chosen business: Amazon, Barratt Homes, The range and Furniture village. They discussed the importance of deforestation, sustainability and what businesses do to help.

The children then created scripts to make an advert for their chosen business and persuading people to shop there due to their impact on the environment. Each child had a section of the advert to research and share with their group.
